Room to grow in Broadmayne

The owners of this very large garden in Broadmayne are keen to see someone make the most of it. Although there is an area already fenced off, the owners would consider extending the area available. The site would need a reasonable amount of work to bring it into cultivation. With an outside tap and space to store tools, this plot would provide ample space for an enthusiastic gardener.

Potential gardeners should be aware that the owners do have pets (as pictured!) and as there is a pond on site, this garden would not be suitable for someone wishing to garden with small children.

Get involved - if you want the chance to -get outside, grow some tasty veggies, get your hands dirty, and vastly reduce the food miles involved in your food...
